

Berkeley Castle Covid 19 - Tenant Update #33 & 34 - November 9, 2020

Yes, I missed the update last week:

I was so engrossed in the US election that I neglected to send out an update. I think its safe to say that almost every Canadian is resting easier with the final results from last weekend.

One step closer to a vaccine:

CERS: The new form of the commercial rent subsidy:

They are working on it, but haven't quite figured out how to administer it yet. Read the details in the Globe

Berkeley Castle wins another energy efficiency award:

We are a historic building, never designed to be energy efficient. The fact that we even qualify for energy efficiency awards is a testament in itself. We are very fortunate that one of our own tenants is a firm that consults with building owners and managers all over Ontario. Our thanks go to all the staff at energy@work who work so hard with us to make sure that we at Berkeley Castle take advantage of all incentives, grants and energy efficiency measures to make our building as energy efficient as possible. This year, for their work at Berkeley Castle, they (and by association us) were awarded the BOMA 2020, CREST Collaborative Excellence category for a building under 500,000 sq. ft . Thanks energy@work!

Still haven't installed the COVID app? Maybe this link will help satisfy any fears. what privacy experts had to say

If you haven't installed it, because you just haven't gotten around to it – here is the link.
